DeRosa of Locust Road, Barbara Fielding of Jerusalem Road, and Aliced Pierce of Windy Hill Road received bachelor of arts degrees from Bridgewater State College.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of Kansas City, Kansas, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tolman of Black Horse Lane.

The Donny and Marie Osmond show which opened at the Music Circus last Monday was a feather in the cap of Ron Rawson, the producer-manager. He had heard that the Osmond family could not do a tent show, as the Music Circus is called in the trade, so he called them in their home in Provo, Utah. He convinced Wayne Osmond to schedule Cohasset into their itinerary.

More congratulations are in order for college graduates. John B. Macauley, son of Dwight and Virginia Macauley received a bachelor of science degree from Bates College in Lewiston, Maine. John was a biology major, a member of the Outing Club, the Campus Association, college recreation and service organizations. He was a graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover.

Sarah Leggat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leggat of Atlantic Avenue, was among more than 1,000 students receiving bachelor's degrees at the 209th commencement exercises at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. DISCOVER DeScenza

diamond merchant and jeweler since 1915

There's More to the Perfection of a Diamond
Than "Flawless"

A flawless diamond is not necessarily the best diamond one can buy. At DeScenza we'll show you the method of scaling the perfection or "clarity" of a diamond — the natural grains and inclusions in a stone, under 10 power magnification.

A flawless diamond very rarely has fine color and beautifully proportioned cut, simply because it is extremely rare to find a perfect diamond in all aspects. Because of this a one carat, "perfect" gem diamond, that a museum or collector would buy, costs $25,000.

At DeScenza's we will teach you what one should look for in a diamond. To properly see the quality of a diamond none of our stones are mounted before you select your stone. A stone with some small inclusion seen under 10 power magnification is common, because nature is rarely perfect. The color and cut is what gives a diamond its outward beauty that you see.
